AVAILABLE NOW:
5' Crawling Girl Prop $179.99

Is she crawling to get you or get away from something even worse? This lifesize animated Crawling Girl is most likely out to get you, as she twitches, moans and groans through a mouth stitched shut for all time, crawling ever closer and ever more creepily, dragging her lifeless body along the ground.

Halloween is just not for kids

Ever run into one of those annoying super cynical types that roll their eyes at you for mentioning Halloween? Halloween is just for kids they say! I think not. Those people who hold onto the belief that Halloween is just for kids is just saying that they don't believe that adults should, so why should anyone else believe?

There are actually many adults who truly love Halloween, but believe that there is an age cutoff at which we should enjoy the holiday. Having this mentality keeps them from joining in and having fun because they don't realize how much is involved for this holiday for all ages to take part in.

When you first think about Halloween, the first thing that comes to mind is trick-or-treating, kids begging for candy, and finding that one costume that they can't wait to wear. If this is the only way we spent Halloween, then we're missing out on all the fun. You are never too old to join in this holiday and the fun that can never be outgrown.

The next time someone rolls their eyes at the idea of Halloween being more than a bowl full of candy, you'll know better. Halloween, like any other holiday is as fun as you make it.

"Great seller with a wonderful variety of quality merchandise—fast shippers too"

ABOUT US

THEMES N THINGS has been in business for over ten years and started selling on eBay in 2000 and we quickly learned what the customer wants for their Seasonal and holidays displays and decorations, so we have opened up a new website for just our Seasonal Items. We are currently gearing up for the Halloween Season now, as we believe that "Halloween Starts Here".

We have taken our product line to the next level of excitement, by providing you with a great line up of unique and hard to find animatronics, airblown inflatables, props, and seasonal decorations to enhance your holidays.

Since Themes N Things inception, the focus has always been on courteous, personalized attention. If you should ever need assistance, simply call us or email us at support@themesnthings.com for a quick resolution. A dedicated team is available to answer your merchandise questions, take special orders, and assist you after your purchase with your product. We pride ourselves in excellent customer service, fast communication to our buyers and rocket shipping which has grown our success, one customer at a time. We also provide our customers with long-term value in every product they purchase.
